AIMS of the summer school

The CIPA (http://cipa.icomos.org) summer school on “Cultural Heritage 3D Surveying and Modeling”, organized within the activities of the Paestum project - http://paestum.fbk.eu, gives the opportunity to scholars, PhD students, researchers and specialists in the surveying and heritage fields to deepen their knowledge and expertise with reality-based 3D modeling techniques. The summer school consists of theoretical lectures (surveying, photogrammetry, active sensors, etc.) and practical work, in the field and in the lab. The participants will learn the basics in surveying and data acquisition (with digital cameras, laser scanning sensors and UAV platforms) as well as practice with data processing methods for 3D models and metric products generation.

The participants, during the practical works, will be divided in groups and with some tutors they will exercise with photogrammetry, scanning and topography both in the archaeological area and in the nearby museum. Each group will be responsible of the digitization of artifacts and big structures and in the last day the results will be presented. The participants must bring a laptop computer (middle-high performances) and, possibly, a digital camera. Other instruments and processing software will be distributed by the organizers.

The summer school is organized by CIPA within its dissemination and technology transfer activities and with the financial support of the CIPA sustaining members.

The archaeological site of PAESTUM
The ancient city of Paestum preserves ruins of Greek and Roman times and three very well preserved Doric temples. Paestum is one of the most important archaeological sites in Italy and was included in the UNESCO World Heritage list in 1998. Greeks from Sybaris founded Paestum around 600 BC with the name of Poseidonia with urban spaces divided into sacred, public and private areas. At the end of the 5th century BC Poseidonia came under the control of the Lucani while in 273 BC, the city became a Roman colony. The city was then abandoned during the Middle Ages and the archaeological area remained submerged under marshes and brushwood for a long time. With the rediscovery of the temples in the 18th century, Paestum came into knowledge again. Systematic archaeological investigations started at the beginning of the last century and they are still on going.
